

THE HALLMARK 1987

THE HALLMARK 1987

MISS HALL'S SCHOOL
PITTSFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS

If you were to combine EFFICIENCY in the running of a Front Office in a busy girls' school, GENTLENESS in dealing with harried students and frantic parents, CARING about those students and their everyday joys and sorrows, ORGANIZATION to see that everything runs smoothly - from changing of classes on short-schedule days to Mr. Ervin's letter and memos; from Mr. Kildahl's college applications and all this is involved with that procedure to signing for school supplies or Federal Express letters - and above all, LOVE for all members of the human race, some who have earned that love and others who have not, then you would have created Theresa Davis - for whom I proudly write this dedication.

The members of the Class of 1987 join me and the student body at Miss Hall's and the many members of the faculty and staff in thanking you for being you, for bringing all that you do to the School each and every day. How reassuring it is to have you sitting there in the Front Office. In some small way, we all hope to express our thanks by dedicating this Hallmark to you!! You are a warm and generous friend to all including, thank heavens, me!!

Joan Furber

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness . . . it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going directly to Heaven, we were all going direct the other way . . . " Yes, this is the basic overused quote, but it applies, why not?

The past school year has had its various ups (Spring Term!) and downs (Winter Term), but overall it has been an excellent year. We have all survived a year of high school — for some of us the first, for others of us the last! We have learned more about life, friends, and ourselves than we knew in the past, and we have all taken another step towards old age. White hair, senility, and retirement homes are just around the corner, so we had better enjoy our "golden years of youth" while we've got them! As I've been told a hundred times, the friends you make in high school will be your life-long friends, and the experiences through which you learn things in your high school years will shape what you are to become. So, our times at Miss Hall's, and at home, are ones which we will always look back on with a smile, a frown, and a myriad of other emotions.

In this past year we have done, heard, and experienced a great deal of Miss Hall's. Students and faculty members went out of their way to arrange fun and different things for everyone to do this year.

It began on September 9th, with . . . the proctor camping trip! For three days, twelve "city girls" struggled through the back woods of Connecticut. The other students of Miss Hall's then arrived on September 13th and 14th, and the excitement began! The seniors brought to life their most evil fantasies and scared the underclassmen in the haunted house. The Halloween spirit was especially up this year because the float the Miss Hall's community worked diligently on, and entered into the Pittsfield Halloween parade, won first prize! This spirit was soon rewarded by Mr. Lee, who gave the students an extra Headmaster's Holiday that was deemed "spirit day!"

The Christmas spirit soon swept through the school. The seniors decorated the Christmas tree and carolled through the hallways, luring the underclassmen downstairs, where everyone then sang Christmas carols around the Christmas tree. A few days later, the freshman class treated the faculty children to a Christmas party and a visit from St. Nick! Secret Santas were assigned later, and santas began creeping around the hallways, leaving presents for people! Everyone then escaped for a few blessed weeks of Christmas vacation!!

Back at school again in January, more plans were put into action! There was a senior coffee at which seniors received their MHS sweatshirts! The next day the underclassmen received their MHS sweatshirts after the school sang the Miss Hall's Alma Mater!

Four students from Pittsfield High School participated in an exchange with Miss Hall's and came to school here for one day. The next week, nine students from Miss Hall's visited Pittsfield High School. The students all got along well, and established a better relationship.

Later in the year, the sophmores put on their annual Sophmore Valentine's Show, which was really fun! A while later, a three-school choir, composed of Salisbury, Berkshire, and Miss Hall's singers and musicians, visited and performed at each of these schools. Everyone loved the performance, which from this year forth will be an annual event.

Spring Break finally arrived, at which time the Juniors left for England, while everyone else took off to find sunny beaches on which to tan!

OF THE YEAR

Everyone arrived back at school in April and had two fun-filled months of school, during which time they ate their lives away at junk food parties, Spanish Club nacho sales, French Club crepe sales and pizza parties; all the while protesting that they were "on a diet!"

Within the protected walls of Miss Hall's, students are not known for being "up" on items of immediate world news, but word does get around eventually as to what is going on in the world! While most of the occurrences within Miss Hall's are exciting and fun, the occurrences outside of Miss Hall's are not. Tragedy is felt in the world almost every day, as is happiness, and the events of the world do permeate the walls of Miss Hall's and affect its students.

In January of 1987, the world remembered the crew of the space shuttle Challenger; a crew which forever will symbolize courage. When a nuclear reactor broke down at Chernobyl, the world was slapped in the face with the dangers of nuclear power and weapons. In South Africa, the Natal proposals were rejected, but the residents of South Africa stood strong and maintained that the idea of power sharing in South Africa will come back time and time again. The United States and the world were confronted with the facts of the "Irancon," which put doubt once again into the minds of Americans and people around the world as to what goes on within the inner walls of American government.

Death is a fact of life, yet it is never expected or fully realized until it is close to us or familiar to us. Four well-known artists died in this school year, and their deaths affected not only those close to them, but also their audience. Cary Grant, whose appeal sprang from his elegance, confidence, and elusiveness, passes away this year along with rough and tough James Cagney. Andy Warhol, who, according to People, made a masterpiece of his life, passed away also, as did Liberace, who was known for "laughing all the way to the bank" for having fun making fun of himself.

On a less somber note, Sarah Ferguson and Prince Andrew were married in Westminster Abbey and are quickly becoming the most favored royal couple! The New York Mets won the World Series; the New York Giants won the Superbowl, and the Stars & Stripes won the America's Cup!

The National Hockey League All-Stars played the Soviet National Team at Rendez-Vous 87 in Quebec. The Soviet team won by one overall point, and all involved had a wonderful time in the game and the various dinners and the International Gala that followed.

And finally, Mother Theresa met Pope John Paul II when he visited her clinic in Calcutta, after which she said, "This is the happiest day of my life . . . He is truly a real father."

These are the events that have shaped our experiences of the past year. Together we have suffered during the hard times, and together we lived it up during the good times. We worked together, goofed off together, and grew together. This is the gift Miss Hall's gives to each of us; the gift of companionship, love, friendship, and freedom to be yourself. With this gift, we develop individually and learn from the different experiences and lives of the many different people who go to school here.

Meg McDonald
